

Seaglass Cottage is a charming, characterful, fully refurbished 250 year old fisherman's cottage situated in the old St Ives fishing area of Downalong, a conservation area full of quaint roads and walkways. Seaglass Cottage is on the doorstep of Porthmeor Beach, the famous surfing beach.

Seaglass Cottage has been recently redesigned and is the perfect combination between traditional and modern with a coastal inspired flare. The open plan kitchen and living area on the ground floor is beautifully presented and cosy with furnishings and accessories selected from the sought after Cream Cornwall shop. The cottage features many pieces of artwork from local Cornish artists. From the well equipped kitchen you proceed up the original and characterful wooden staircase complete with twisted rope handrails. On the first floor you will find three double bedrooms. One of the bedrooms has a zip and link feature and can accommodate the need for two single beds instead. This bedroom also has a loo and wash basin inside. The coastal living inspired interior design.
